The gentlemen connected with some pleasant exercises at the late "Centenary Fair " beg leave to say in reply to a card from Dr. Edwards that the playful notice which recently obtained currency through the press concerning a proposed public entertainment by those gentlemen, was intended in nowise to involve the Methodist Church. It was stated that some ladies connected" with the late Fair had asked them to give a public performance. It was further stated that, in compliance with be given-a performance which would embrace things not included in What time after being printed. Will copy in ordinary took place at the Fair. To that Fair these gentlemen had willingly contributed what they could to enhance its attractions, and thus increase its receipts. It was further stated that such exhibition would take place, probably, at the Opera-House. It was not stated that it would be for the benefit of any church. With the Doctor's impression he expressed himself as it might be supposed he would; but he labored under some wrong impressions. The gentlemen disclaim al purpose to connect the Church with their enterprise in any manner. It is not deemed necessary to do more than reproduce the par agraph complained of: "A RICH TREAT IN STORE .- Some of th ladies connected with the Centenary Church Fair, held week before last, have invited the Fourth-Street Horribles' and 'Catawba to give a musical and humorous entertainment, and they have consented to do so on the 29th instant, probably at the Virginia Opera-House. They have already commenced to prepare their programme, and what with burlesque opera, Japanese jugglery, a first-class circus on the stage, the pipeoleans,' etc., an innocent and amusing entertainment may be expected." Surely it would not have been necessary to call it an "innocent" entertainment if the gentlemen had intended to imply that it was under the patronage of the church.

The burglars effected an entrance through a fransom light over the door in rear of the store. A promissory note, with certain names signed thereto, was found on the floor of the store, which is supposed to have been dropped by the midnight visitors.
